

Jacob – you have not recorded our class WALT or your own learning goal as you know you should have done.

This is grammatically incorrect as you have used both singular and plural forms...
singular: a mythical creature
plural: werewolves
You need to either say the story is about mythical creatures... or about a mythical creature called the werewolf.

comma here and after case as "just in case" is added as extra detail.

By this you mean "let us go" so you need to show the proper contraction: let's

Once again: this is grammatically incorrect – you have a singular with a plural: Werewolves are mythical creatures...

mix of human and wolf... often thought to be combined with an element of demon

You have some good ideas here Jacob but you have not shared them in complete sentences and a properly structured paragraph.

Werewolves

This story is about a mythical creature called werewolves. Now you probably know what werewolves are but just in case I will tell you about their mythical species, weaknesses, strengths and different types of werewolves. Now lets go!

Main Idea 1: What is a werewolf?

Werewolves are a mythical creature of a-man that can transform into a mix of human, wolf, and a demon. Depending on the type of werewolf they can look completely different. So read the next chapter to find out the differences for different werewolves.

Main Idea 2: Different werewolves.

First of all there are Wolfmen (or lesser werewolves).

These werewolves transform into a man with sharp teeth, claws, little bits of fur here and there, and somewhat enhanced senses.

Next are Werewolves (or Great Werewolves).

These are the classic werewolves with a wolf head, fur, claws, legs and enhanced senses.

And last but definitely not least are True Werewolves (or Pure Werewolves)

These Werewolves are basically werewolves but can shift form freely and summon other werewolves with a powerful howl.

The only true/pure werewolves are a mysterious group called "The Five".

Main idea 3: How to avoid werewolves...

If you want to avoid werewolves here are some ideas: Like normal wolves werewolves will hunt in a forrest so stay away from them at night. Werewolves are vulnerable to silver. So silver bullets are a good idea.

Conclusion:

So now you know all about werewolves and how to avoid them and I'll be back writing another story later on so see ya till next time!
